Blazing Star

Freeborn and Mower Counties

The Blazing Star State Trail runs from Albert Lea Lake in Albert Lea through Big Island State Park. When completed, the Blazing Star State Trail will connect Albert Lea and Austin via Big Island State Park and Hayward.

Currently, six miles are constructed between the city of Albert Lea and Big Island State Park. This trail also connects to Albert Lea's city trail system. Once the trail reaches Austin, it will connect to Austin's city trail system, as well as the Shooting Star State Trail.

Trail users will enjoy views of rural landscapes along the entire trail. Big Island State Park affords the opportunity to experience a diversity of natural environments including wetlands, oak savanna, big woods and prairie. The park is considered one of the many good birding spots in southern Minnesota, especially during spring and fall migration.
